

5 Summary of results

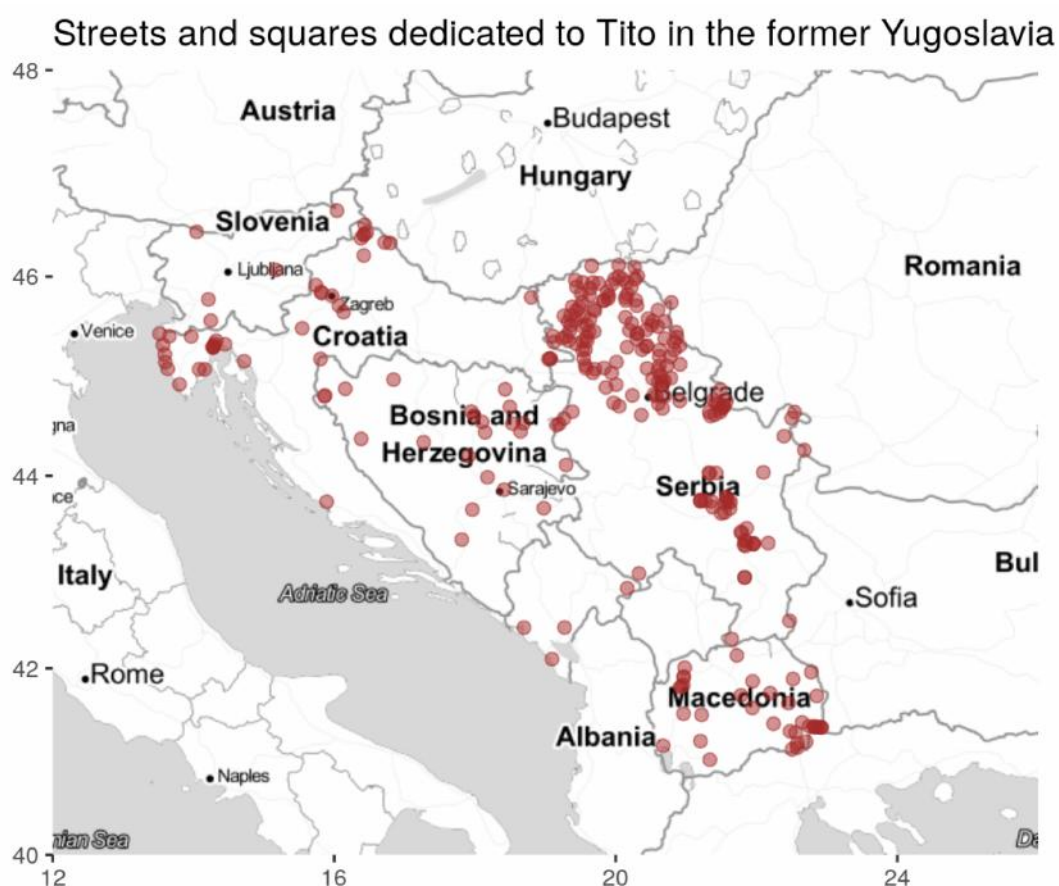

In the former Yugoslavia, streets and squares dedicated to Tito are commonplace in some areas (in particular, Istria and Vojvodina) but almost absent in others. The results presented below refer to data found by systematically querying the Google Maps API; OpenStreetMap data proved to be incomplete and partially misleading, as they would not have allowed to identify the area that seems to have the higher density of streets and squares dedicated to Tito, i.e. Vojvodina. Indeed, Vojvodina alone has more than a hundred instances of streets or squares dedicated to Tito.

Also data found via Google Maps may be incomplete, or not completely up to date. Indeed, as it appears also exploring the results on Google Maps there are some instances of streets dedicated to Tito found by OpenStreetMapa that are not found by Google Maps. For consistency, the maps below include only Google Maps data (as of August 2017): they likely offer a meaningful picture of the presence and distribution of streets and squares dedicated to Tito in the former Yugoslavia.

All results can be viewed as an overlay on Google Maps, or in the maps below.

Weltstatistik: Opfer des Sozialismus/Kommunismus

A: Schätzungen über Megatötungen («DEMOZID») wichtiger marxistisch-leninistischer Regime zwischen 1917 und 1987 durch sämtliche Tötungstechniken außer Krieg (nach Rummel 1996, ergänzt durch den Autor)

Sowjetunion (1917 - 1987)	61 911 000
Rotchina sowie Maoisten vor 1949*	38 702 000
Rote Khmer in Kambodscha 1975 - 79	2 035 000
Äthiopien 1974 - 1991	2 000 000
Hanoi-Vietnam (1945 - 87)	1 678 000
Nordkorea seit 1945	1 663 000
Volkspolen (Deportationstötungen 1945 ff.)	1 400 000
Tito-Jugoslawien (1941 - 1987)	1 072 000
Tschechoslowakei (Sudeten-Deportationen 1945 ff.)	238 000
Jugoslawien/Serbien ab 1990	150 000

Summe: 110 849 000

* Nach einer aktuellen Untersuchung (Becker 1998) müssen für China von 1958 – 1961 mindestens 20 Millionen Opfer mehr als bei Rummel veranschlagt werden, wodurch an der Spitze Gleichstand herrscht.

C: Rangordnung der Megamörder (über 1 Million Opfer) im 20. Jahrhundert nach 1994, vom Autor ergänzt

Josef Stalin* (Sowjetunion)	42 672 000
Mao Zedong (Volkschina plus frühere Guerilla-Zeit)	37 828 000
Adolf Hitler (Nationalsozialistisches Deutschland)	20 946 000
Chiang Kai-shek (Nationalchina)	10 214 000
Wladimir I. Lenin (Sowjetunion)	4 017 000
Tojo Hideki (Kaiserliches Japan 1941 - 45)	3 990 000
Pol Pot (Kambodscha plus frühere Guerilla-Zeit)	2 397 000
Mengistu Haile-Mariam (Äthiopien 1977 - 1991)	2 000 000
Yahya Khan (Pakistan 1971)	1 500 000
Josip Broz Tito (Jugoslawien + frühere Guerilla-Zeit)	1 172 000

* Für die Stalinzahlen gilt ebenfalls, dass sie zwischen 20 und 40 Millionen schwanken.

 Mit Maos zusätzlichen 20 Millionen Opfern 1958 - 1961 (Becker: 1998) rückt er auf den ersten Rang.
